

JAG Ancillary Services

The Judicial Arbiter Group, Inc. provides these other critical services to the business and legal communities.

Receiverships

The arbiter and administrative staff of JAG are able to assist counsel by its availability for court appointment as receiver in litigation involving on-going enterprises. With experience, training and expertise in accounting, management, marketing and law, Judicial Arbiter Group staff is able to assist counsel in navigating the pitfalls of state court receiverships as well as bankruptcy issues.

The added dimension of receivership supervision by former trial and appellate judges provides court and counsel additional comfort in these delicate situations.

Special Masters

Arbiter staff is available for court appointment as Special Master under the appropriate statutory provision to assist court and counsel in resolution of cases requiring ultimate court review and final approval. These appointments are especially appropriate in such cases as environmental litigation, complex commercial disputes where appointment of a discovery master will assist the court in final resolution, and cases where the length of time required for settlement discussions or trial make it difficult to manage due to the press of other court business.

Appointed Judges

Pursuant to Colorado Revised Statutes, C.R.C.P. 122, JAG arbiters who are former Colorado judges are eligible for appointment as judges. Compensation is at the usual rate charged by the Arbiter selected. Trials conducted under this provision are appealable as final court orders.

Appellate Review

Because a number of Judicial Arbiter Group, Inc. arbiters are former appellate judges, counsel is able to create an appellate review panel to determine pertinence, theory and presentation issues in cases currently on appeal. It is often advantageous to counsel to present issues, theories, and presentation methods in appeal preparation to a group of former appellate jurists.

Case Evaluation

Arbiter staff at JAG is available for consultation with individual counsel regarding evaluation, case strengths and weaknesses, and trial strategy.
